

Art and Craft celebrated at the Festival!

There are a number of art and craft related events at the Wild Blueberry Festival this year! The first of which includes a Quilt Fair and Tea (Aug. 20-21) in Wentworth at the United Church. The Quilters of St. David's United Church and the Rug Hookers of Northern Nova Scotia will be holding the 11th Annual Quilt and Hooked Rug sale on Aug. 22 and 23 at St. David's Church in Bible Hill.

Sara Bonnyman will be showcasing her beautiful blueberry pottery in Tatamagouche from 1-3pm on Aug 20, and visitors will also enjoy a Wild Blueberry field tour and Arlene Collins Fine Art Gallery near Parrsboro (call Arlene to confirm date and time: 902-254-2857)

For more details check the festival's complete on-line schedule of events.
